INTERNS HELP PAWLOWSKI CAMPAIGN RUN SMOOTHLY

Mayor Ed Pawlowski has recruited college students to work as interns on his re-election campaign.

The interns will work on all aspects of the campaign, giving them a great chance to see its inner-workings and prepare for the real-world application of political and governmental theories. Interns who achieve excellence in their assignments also receive a letter of recommendation and reference from Mayor Pawlowski.

"Our interns gain great experience working on the campaign," Pawlowski said. "Many of our interns from the 2005 campaign have since worked on state and national campaigns all over the country."
